Southeast Iowa Filmmakers Workshop

Lights, Camera, Iowa!
Workshop Promotes Film Opportunities

Have you ever thought about entering the film industry but wanted to enjoy the quality of life here in Iowa? There is some good news. Iowa is now bringing the film industry to you!

Due to the Iowa Film Tax Credits, our state is quickly becoming a popular destination for new films. Films can bring a significant economic boost to the area. The crews spend considerable time in hotels, eat in our restaurants, and spend money on various entertainment and retail venues. In addition, films can bring positive publicity to the area.

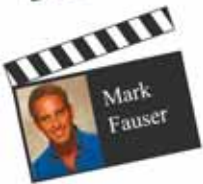

If you have thought about entering the film industry, now is the time. On Saturday, June 27th, there will be a Southeast Iowa Filmmakers Workshop held from 9:00 am to 3:00 p.m. in the Chadwick Library at Iowa Wesleyan College. In a few short hours, you can learn the basics of hair and makeup, acting, and production from industry experts.

Kerry Herta will present a session on hair and makeup for film and TV. For 18 years, Herta has built a reputation throughout as an outstanding hair and makeup professional. Kerry has accumulated more than 100 film, television and print credits.

Mark Fauser will teach participants basic acting principles and explain the different kinds of acting. Fauser is a professional writer and actor. He has worked with many stars including Jimmy Stewart, Billy Bob Thorton, Hillary Swank, Charlize Theron, and Burt Reynolds. He is Executive Director of the Community School of the Arts in Marion, IN.

Brian Frankish will discuss the various kinds of work that are done behind the scenes: production, producing, directing, and crew work. With such films as Field of Dreams, Stuart Little, Righteous Kill, and The Crazies, to his credit, Brian Frankish has decades of experience in the entertainment business.

The fee to attend is $50 in advance or $65 at the door. To register, contact David File at 800-582-2383.
